

Operation Iraqi Freedom Charitable Giving Program

All photos were taken Dec. 4, 2003 in Kirkuk, Iraq by Airman 1st Class Alicia Sarkkinen

The children pictured above were happy to receive toys and school supplies donated from Americans across the United States, delivered by soldiers and airmen in uniform. They are very much like the children that you see in the classrooms of America. The only difference is they live in war-torn Iraq.

While these children can laugh, sing songs and play with their new toys, there are thousands of other children in Iraq who do not have this same opportunity. There are over 10,000 schools in Iraq, and countless numbers of orphanages.

The chapel staff and volunteers at Kirkuk Air Base are asking for your help in bringing smiles to the faces of other needy children. While Iraq is in need, there is something we can do about it.

Please help us by contributing supplies to our effort. Examine the list below and donate what you can. We seek to comfort the needy children of Iraq. Help us bring smiles to those who haven't smiled in awhile.
